

PENSION LAW DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL

PROPOSED PLAN FOR SAFE-GUARDING FIREMEN TALKED
OVER. APPARATUS NEEDED.

The Greencastle city council held a meeting Monday evening at which all members of the council, the mayor and city clerk were present. Only a small portion of routine business was transacted but several important matters to the city firemen and police and to the city tax payers were under discussion.

Following the reading of the claim ordinance, and the granting of Wallace Morris to erect a storage house costing $200 at 501 West Columbia street, and the laying over until sufficient bond is posted for the cutting of the side-walk, curb and gutter by Lee Hubbard at his new residence on south Indiana street, the discussion of two ordinances came up.

The first ordinance read was a proposal to pay the city firemen a pension under certain conditions. It is made possible under statute passed in 1937, and provides several methods of paying firemen disabled while on duty, or on their retirement from service at serving 25 years. The state law provides also that widows, dependent children under 18 years and other children mentally deficient or otherwise incapacitated, may receive pensions for their natural lives.

The law provides that a fireman may retire voluntarily at the age of 50 years, or after he has served 25 years, and receive 55 per cent of his normal monthly pay for the remainder of his life. The widow may receive 30 per cent for her life, the father and mother may receive 30 per cent and children under 18 may receive 10 per cent each, or incapacitated children may receive 30 per cent for their lifetime. The law also provides that in case of accidental death, the survivor may receive $200 cash benefits.

To raise this money for pensions, 3 per cent of the city fireman's pay is deducted and the remainder is raised through taxes, or the law provides how it may be borrowed.

Under the present set-up, the city is carrying compensation insurance. Prior to this, the city paid out about $1,000 in the case of a fire accident because they carried no insurance or protection. In case of the pension system the compensation insurance is not carried.

Councilman Thorlton lead the discussion on the proposed ordinance after it had been read by City Attorney Frank Stoessel. Mr. Thorlton made a motion to have the unanimous consent of the council for its immediate passage. This failed, when Councilmen Craver and Mayhall asked for specific figures on the probable cost and status of all the firemen. It will come before the council at its next meeting and fire chief Lawrence asked them to either pass it or postpone the matter indefinitely.

It is believed the costs of such a proposal, in the years to come, would run about six or eight to one for the tax payers, with the firemen paying their three per cent. A similar law is on the state books for policemen but it only provides for the police to pay one or one and a half per cent of their salary into the fund and the city pays the balance.

The second ordinance proposed to jump all surplus Barrett law funds into one and to make it possible for the city to pay outstanding bonds or other streets and those on which the bonds are held. This was recommended by the State Board of Accounts and was unanimously passed.

Following the passing and discussions of the ordinances, the matter of sufficient fire fighting equipment to make it possible for the firemen to do any effective work, was brought up for discussion. It was the consensus of opinion that it

RED'S SUMMER OFFENSIVE IS NEAR AN END

AUTUMN RAINS AND FIERCE
COUNTER-ATTACKS SLOW UP
RUSS DRIVE.

MOSCOW, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—The three-month Russian summer offensive appeared to be nearing an end today as autumn rains and fierce enemy counter-attacks slowed the Soviet advance through with Russia almost to a standstill.

Though the Soviets forced a river on the approaches to Gomel and seized several strongholds before Mogilev and Vitebsk, these were only limited gains in comparison with recent Red army advances that engulfed as many as 1,000 towns and villages daily.

Taking advantage of torrential rains which turned the roadless terrain into a quagmire that all but halted Russian mobile forces, massed German troops and tanks counter-attacked all along the 200-mile white Russian front.

The Soviet high command said the Germans were striving at all cost to hold their winter line anchored on Gomel, Mogilev, Orsha and Vitebsk, barring the approaches to the Polish border and the Baltic states.

Three thousand Germans died in the seven futile counter-attacks before Gomel. In a neighboring sector, Russian Tommy gunners forced a river—possibly the Sozh—and routed the enemy in a flanking maneuver that cleared the way for a crossing in force. Supporting Red air force planes destroyed several tanks, 10 guns and more than 100 trucks loaded with war supplies.

Russian forces on the Mogilev front broke enemy resistance in one sector and captured several strongholds, killing more than 400 Germans, destroying 20 guns and capturing prisoners and booty, while their comrades before Vitebsk seized three villages and killed more than 300 of the enemy.

COURT HOUSE OFFICES WILL CLOSE WEDNESDAY

The closing will be continued until further notice, it was stated.

Frankfurt Again Bombers' Target

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—British four-engined bombers, rounding out 100 hours of the heaviest aerial offensive of the war, sent another 1,000 tons of bombs crashing down on Frankfurt last night while the German arsenal city still blazed from an American raid only 12 hours earlier.

Other British night bombers struck simultaneously at the inland port and war production center of Ludwigshafen and northwest Germany to boost the tonnage of Anglo-American bombs dropped on the Reich in 10 major raids in the past four days to perhaps 7,000, by far the heaviest weight of explosives ever unloaded in a similar period.

A force made up entirely of four-engined Lancasters raided Ludwigshafen, dropping upwards of 500 tons, while twin-engined Mosquitoes scattered bombs over northwest Germany. Only 12 bombers were lost in all raids last night.

The big force of British night raiders that hit Frankfurt was guided by fires kindled by hundreds of tons of American bombs yesterday afternoon. New fires were started and the whole city appeared to be wreathed in flames by the time the last bomber left.

Although there was no announcement of the size of last night's Frankfurt assault, observers on the southeast England coast reported that the bombers took more than an hour to pass overhead shortly after dark last night. The procession also was heard passing over London.

DANGER OF ENEMY AIR RAIDS IS NOW REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—Reduced danger of effective enemy air attack on the United States was reflected today in a war department order drastically curtailing the activities of the civilian aircraft warning service and the duties of some 600,000 of its volunteers.

General H. H. Arnold, commander of the army air forces, announced last night that hereafter observation posts and filter stations would be manned at intervals of a few hours weekly rather than on a 24-hour basis.

President Roosevelt joined with Arnold in warning that this curtailment of services does not mean all danger of attack from the air is past.

PROPOSED NEW TAX PROGRAM SEEMS DOOMED

REJECTION OF ADMINISTRATION PLAN SEEN DAY AFTER PROPOSAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—The administration's new tax program, calling for $10,500,000,000 in new revenue aside from proposed social security tax increases, appeared doomed today less than 24 hours after it was submitted to Congress.

A 10 per cent national sales tax and stringent economies in the current war budget emerged as principal congressional alternatives to the administration's plan following the first day of formal hearings on the new revenue bill.

Congress is giving the long-awaited recommendations by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., including one for a $5,500,000,000 boost in personal income taxes, the coldest reception of any revenue program in decades.

Members of the House ways and means committee assailed every major feature of the program and were almost unanimous in predicting that it would never reach the House floor. The criticism of Morgenthau's program, which he said had the full approval of President Roosevelt, was spearheaded by Republican tax leaders but not confined to them.

Ways and Means Chairman Robert L. Doughton, D., N. C., who usually sides with the administration on basic tax questions, asserted that the administration's program was "ambitious" and more than the taxpayers could reasonably bear.

Individual taxpayers in 1944 and 1945 will be carrying the current tax burden plus an additional payment of 12½ per cent of their 1942 liability for the years 1944 and 1945, he explained, adding:

"Therefore, I feel that it would be too much to expect them to carry so heavy an additional burden as recommended by the Treasury."

Roughly, the Treasury's plan would increase the present withholding rate on individual paychecks from 20 to 30 per cent. Doughton said many taxpayers have had their incomes reduced by the war effort and still have to absorb a material increase in the cost of living.

Any benefit which might arise as a result of the Treasury's plan to curb inflation would be more than offset by "unbearably increased" burdens, he added. This would have a tendency to break down the morale of the taxpayer, the chairman added, at a time when the public is responding magnificently to present and past bond campaigns.

Doughton took special offense at

GREENCASTLE BOYS ATTAIN HIGH HONOR

JUDGING TEAM PERFORMED
EXCELLENTLY IN PURDUE
DAIRY CONTEST

The Greencastle High School Dairy Judging team for the second time in as many years ranked in the first place group of the State Dairy Judging Contest held last Friday and Saturday at Purdue University. In gaining entrance to the state final, the local team along with twenty-seven others from Indiana had survived county and district elimination contests.

The local team composed of Bill Wilde, Dick Hoffman, Bob Hoffman, and Carl Strain piled up a total of 748 points out of a possible 900. According to the official records they ranked third in the entire contest being six points behind the first place team from Noble County and only one point behind the second place team.

The General Livestock Judging Teams from Greencastle High School which had also won the right to compete in the State finals of their division ranked in the second group. This team was composed of Wendell Brattain, Alva Cash, Norman Evans, and Bob Strain. The scores in the general livestock division ran unusually high with the local boys missing first place only by the narrowest of margins.

Greencastle High School vocational Agricultural students coached by Gene Akers have established an enviable reputation throughout Indiana by having won twenty-seven district and state judging and demonstration titles during the past six years.

In commenting upon these most recent judging honors, Coach Akers had nothing but praise for every member of his team. He said, "Of course we were disappointed not to have won the Dairy Judging Championship after having come so close, but most of these boys will be back again next year trying all the harder. All of our livestock and dairy boys have worked hard and long hours most of which were outside of regular school time and are deserving of all honors that have come to them. They and their parents have made a great many sacrifices in order to make their participation possible. As a partial result of their efforts, I am firmly convinced that these eight young men, if given an opportunity, are going to make history in the livestock industry of Putnam County."

"The boys and myself join in expressing thanks and appreciation to the dairy and livestock breeders of Putnam and surrounding counties for their splendid cooperation in furnishing us with practice classes and their many thoughtful acts of support and encouragement."

Roachdale Elevator Changes Ownership

John Poor of Greencastle became the owner of the grain elevator in Roachdale today when the buildings were purchased from Mrs. Alice Lockridge of Roachdale. The buildings have been operated as a grain and feed outlet continuously since 1905, when it was constructed by A. C. Lockridge and operated by him until his death in 1928.

The Miller Grain Co. assumed the operation of the business from Mrs. A. C. Lockridge in 1930 and has conducted a feed and grain business continuously at this location until today. The business will be operated by Mr. Poor as the Roachdale Elevator Co. and Sam Runion will continue as manager. Mr. Runion is well known in the Roachdale community and has managed the business for many years.

Mr. Poor made the statement today that he will strive to give the people of Roachdale and surrounding territory the same excellent service that has been the policy under its operation by Harley Miller and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lockridge. A custom grading service will be available, and a complete line of feeds will be handled.

Harley Miller is owner of the Miller Grain Co. and the Southend Elevator in Greencastle. Mr. Poor will continue to operate the Quality Feed Store in Greencastle along with the Roachdale Elevator Co.

Senate Expected To Vote On Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—The senate may start voting today on the bill to defer pre-war fathers from the draft until January 1, but unlimited debate and the possibilities of compromise may delay a final decision until tomorrow.

Senate Democratic leaders Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky is confident of defeating the deferment bill sponsored by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., but these were indications that he might accept a compromise that would force replaceable single men of draft age out of government jobs and into the armed services.

That compromise is sponsored by Sens. Josiah W. Bailey, D., N. C., and Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., and, according to Barkley, would provide not more than 15,000 men for the military services and have virtually no effect on selective service plans to draft 446,000 pre-Pearl Harbor fathers this year.

The senate's desire for some sort of compromise stems from the fact that many senators, although opposed to a blanket deferment of fathers in view of the opposition of military leaders, do not want to be on record for home consumption as just flatly opposed to the Wheeler bill. Many returned from the summer vacation.

JAP BARGES, GUNBOATS HIT BY AMERICANS

U. S. WARSHIPS DEAL HEAVY
BLOW TO JAP EVACUATION ATTEMPTS.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Oct. 5.—(U.P.)—American warships have wrecked a big Japanese barge fleet attempting to evacuate troops from the central Solomons, sinking or severely damaging at least 40 barges and several escorting gunboats, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The action, fought out under cover of darkness Monday and Saturday nights in the narrow waters off Kolombangara Island at a cost of one American vessel damaged, appeared to foreshadow the collapse of organized Japanese resistance in the central Solomons.

A spokesman at MacArthur's headquarters indicated that the Japanese were trying to withdraw their garrison from Kolombangara, now encircled by American island positions, to Bougainville, more than 100 miles to the northwest.

Surface units of Adm. William F. Halsey's south Pacific command intercepted and smashed the flotilla, despite repeated attacks by Japanese planes attempting to cover the barges.

One escorting Japanese gunboat was sent to the bottom and a number of others were damaged, while the enemy planes hit one U. S. naval unit, causing light casualties.

A lone Corsair fighter raided enemy barge hideouts on Kolombangara Friday morning, hours before the surface action, strafing and burning two barges.

There was no immediate indication as to whether the big enemy flotilla was caught on the way into Kolombangara or while actually withdrawing troops from the island. If the barges were fully laden with troops, it was believed the enemy casualties might be high, possibly several thousand men.

MacArthur's communique also revealed that American Liberator bombers pounded Vila, the main enemy center on Kolombangara, Friday while other raiders struck at Japanese shipping off Buka Island, northernmost of the Solomons. One enemy barge was destroyed in the latter attack, while a large vessel was damaged and a direct bomb hit touched off a heavy explosion on a Japanese destroyer.

Other American planes raided an enemy barge depot on Choiseul Island and the Kahili airbase on Bougainville. Thirty to 40 Japanese fighters tried unsuccessfully to break up the Bougainville attack, and four of them were shot down. One American fighter was lost.

Enemy dive bombers and fighters hit back at allied positions on Vella Lavella and New Georgia, Friday, causing "moderate" damage and casualties and losing five of their planes.

Australian troops mopping up remnants of Japanese resistance in the upper Markham river valley, in northeastern New Guinea, were reported to have crossed the Gusap river about 60 miles southwest of the enemy's coastal supply base at Madang.

GERMAN SOLDIERS THREW AWAY PHOTOS OF HITLER

MARSHAL BADOGLIO HEAD-QUARTERS, ITALY, Oct. 5 (UP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio said today that rumors that Adolf Hitler had resigned sent German soldiers in Rome into ecstasies of joy, during which they threw photographs of the Fuehrer from hotel windows.

The rumors of Hitler's resignation swept Rome at the time of Benito Mussolini's resignation as Italian premier. Badoglio said in an interview at his headquarters in Allied-occupied Italy.

Badoglio asserted that Mussolini had thanked him by letter on the night of his resignation for the measures taken to protect him "against the fury of the people who may have broken with him."

"In his last letter to his sister," Badoglio said, "Mussolini said he would devote himself to the church."

Badoglio pledged that as soon as he and King Victor Emmanuel III return to Rome, he will complete his government "by getting the best known and most intelligent opponents of Fascism." Eventually, he said, it would be a Democratic government.

Badoglio said he was delighted Italy was "back on the right road again, which is always great friendship with Britain and the United States."

PENSION LAW

might be hard to get fire fighting equipment now, due to the war, but Greencastle certainly needs something and because of the dire lack of equipment, WFB officials might permit the city to buy new fire fighting apparatus.

It was shown how at the last fire, the old Seagrave truck went dead a block away from headquarters and the other one might do likewise. Neither has any ladders on it, the firemen estimating they could not get on top of 90 per cent of the buildings in the city. It seems to be that the city is fortunate in that no serious fires have occurred in the downtown district in recent years that required ladders or extra apparatus. Companies manufacturing fire engines will be contacted by a committee of the council composed of Councilman Bryan and Councilman Craver and City attorney Stoessel, and a further report will be made to the council relative to whether or not apparatus may be obtained at the present time and at about what cost.

REDS' SUMMER OFFENSIVE

Red armies had advanced 200 to 250 miles to the west in the three months since they began their summer offensive near Kursk. Below white Russia, they had come to a halt along the middle and lower reaches of the Dnieper, presumably to gather strength for a lunge across the river. Planes of the Black Sea fleet air arm continued to pound German troops evacuating their shrinking bridgehead on the Taman Peninsula to the Crimea. Six more barges were sunk yesterday, a communique said, 100 trucks loaded with war supplies were wrecked and an enemy infantry battalion was dispersed and partly wiped out.

OBITUARY

In loving memory of John Thomas Chavis who passed away on August 24th at 7:30 a. m., age 74 years.

He leaves to mourn his going his wife, Mrs. Lucy Chavis, two sons, Donald of this city and Hubert of Danville, Ill., four brothers, Joseph of St. Louis, Mo., Boyd of Spencer, Ind., Redmond of Terre Haute and George of Greencastle; one sister, Thane Coffman, Greencastle; three brothers, Grenfield, David and one unnamed infant and a sister, Anna, have already preceded him in death. He leaves also four grandchildren, six great grandchildren, hosts of nieces and nephews and numerous friends.

He was a member of the Church of God and was a great helper in the church work. He will be greatly missed from his place of worship, but this verse might perhaps give a glimpse of his faith:
When you come to the end of the highway of Life,
And your feet are too weary to roam,
There's a light shining bright
If you've lived in the right,
Shining clearly to welcome you home.

FIRE AT ANDERSON

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 5.—(UP)—Fire which started in the basement of a five-and-ten store gutted a quarter of a block of business buildings in downtown Anderson early today and unofficial estimates of damage ran to $300,000.

Roy Fisher, Coatesville, underwent a tonsil operation at the hospital Tuesday morning.

LABOR GROUP AWAITS ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—(U.P.) Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention speculated today on whether President Roosevelt in his message to the annual session would take sides in the Lewis controversy.

It has been reported that the chief executive is against the united mine workers' proposed reaffiliation with the AFL because of the Lewis group's failure to abide by anti-strike pledges.

The President was expected to compliment the federation on its no-strike and production records. President William Green in his keynote address yesterday cited the fact that more than 85 per cent of war material was being produced in America by union labor.

There was also a possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would shed some light on the part to be played by labor in postwar world. Green demanded that labor be given "full representation" at the peace table, promising that the desire for permanent peace would not be thwarted by "professional international diplomats."

The President's message will be read to the convention by George Meany, secretary-treasurer of the federation.

GARDEN ONIONS STORE WELL

Good storage conditions for small crops of onions are usually easy to supply, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Onions will keep well and long if dug when the tops are almost dry and left in the sun for an hour or so.

Vegetable specialists recommend that the onions be put in well ventilated baskets or crates which can be piled with space between for air circulation. Large-esh woven bags are also good. A temperature between 32 and 50 degrees F. is good, but the lower margin is better and the higher it goes the greater the tendency of the bulbs to sprout. Dry storage is best because moist air favors root growth. The specialists say a little freezing does not harm if the onions are not handled while frozen.

If well matured when stored, they may be placed directly in the containers—otherwise spread on the floor of an airy room until the necks are thoroughly shriveled. Before putting onions away for the winter cull any cut or decaying bulbs. Thick neck bulbs should be kept for immediate use as they are likely to rot.

Onions from a small garden can usually be stored satisfactorily in winter in an unheated spare room or in the attic, but never where there is danger of more than slight freezing. To make sure they are dry enough, find if the skins crackle in the hand. If they do the onions are dry enough to be safe.

"GUTS AND BAYONETS"

WITH THE AUSTRALIANS, FINSCHHAFEN, New Guinea, Oct. 2.—(UP)—A wild bayonet charge in the dark by Australians of a New South Wales unit broke the nerve and resistance of the Japanese here and enabled the allies to seize the important base of Finschhafen.

"Guts and bayonets did the job," said an Australian commander, standing in the ruins of the Japanese base which was so pocked by bomb craters that it looked like the surface of the moon.

MANY OUTLETS FOR SOYBEANS

"How will all the soybeans to be harvested this fall be used?" asks a flier just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, both to encourage soybean consumption this year and the growing of a crop next year even larger than the crop of 208,763,000 bushels estimated for this season. The answer that follows the questions says:

"Because of their high nutrient value most of the soybeans will go into human food and livestock feed. Oil crushed from the bean goes into salad oils, oleomargarine, cooking fats, and other foods, rich in energy and fat. From the meal left after the oil is removed are made flour, breakfast foods, macaroni, infant foods, crackers, and a whole new line of foods rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals. More and more of these foods are needed, especially in wartime. Even the whole bean is used more widely in an increasing variety of dishes."

PROPOSE NEW TAX

Some of the excise taxes suggested by the administration, particularly the recommended boost in tobacco levies, which he termed "indefensible." He said they amounted to "picking out a few articles that already are taxed excessively high and imposing greatly increased rates while leaving without any tax whatever other articles which cannot be classed as necessities."

Doughton and other members of the committee objected to the Treasury's suggestion for refunding $3,510,000,000 of the new income taxes after the war, asserting that it would further complicate tax returns at a time when Congress is attempting to simplify them.

The arguments for a sales tax as an alternative to the income levies came from Reps. A. Willis Robertson, D., Va., and Wesley E. Disney, D., Okla., while the greatest number of committee men were interested in economizing.

SENATE EXPECTS TO VOTE

Reporting that their constituents were concerned about the forthcoming father draft.

Thus, they would prefer to vote affirmatively—for something like the Bailey-Clark compromise—even though it would have no effect on the basic issue of drafting fathers. Then they could say that they followed the advice of the military leaders on the father-draft, but voted for action to weed out alleged "draft dodgers" in government positions.

HOGS HOLD TO CEILING

The hog market at the Indianapolis stockyards Tuesday held to the government ceiling of $14.80. This was true of weights from 100 to 400 pounds and the underweights. Pigs and best packing sows also held to the ceiling price. Rough sows were discounted 25 to 50 cents by buyers. The run was 5,000. The cattle on a run of 1,900 was generally unchanged in early trading. Calves were steady on a run of 500, quoted at $15.50 down. Lambs were weak with receipts 2,000. The top stall held at $15.

RETURNED TO PRISON

LEBANON, Ind., Oct. 5.—(UP)—Robert Dearmond, 40, a parole violator who was questioned in the murder of Cpl. Maoma L. Ridings at Indianapolis Aug. 28, was returned to the Michigan City state prison today after escaping from a parole officer.

Dearmond fled from the officer last night as they emerged from a cafe where they had eaten dinner, but he was captured shortly afterwards by Deputy Sheriff Norval Neas and Officer Ben Powell who found him crouching near a railroad shack west of town.

DAMAGE SUIT

PORTLAND, Ind., Oct. 4.—(UP)—A $10,000 damage suit charging the city school board with negligence was filed today in the Jay county Circuit Court by Raymond Shepherd, Portland, following the recent death of his 15-year-old daughter, Lois Jean.

Board members named defendants in the action were William Parks, Don Hammitt, and Mrs. Emmet Saxman.

Attorneys Clarence Bendadum, Muncie, and M. S. Hawkins, Portland, said the complaint alleges that the death of the girl was due to the "negligent and wilful demand of the school in compelling her to participate in physical education following a 20-day illness of measles." The suit avers that the girl took a severe cold resulting in her death when she was made to run around the football field, clad in a gym suit, during cold weather.
